Styles & Scribbles Announces Release of Art n' Play Web Site

August 1, 2003—SEATTLE, WA—Styles & Scribbles, a writing and design services firm specializing in creating audience-centric information, today announced the release of the brand new Art n' Play Web site.

“The site provides timely information on workshops and the company, and also showcases customer’s artwork.” said Tiffany Adamowski, business director of Styles & Scribbles.

The site, www.artnplay.com, was built from the ground-up using Microsoft® FrontPage to allow for easy updates by novice web personnel, while taking advantage of key FrontPage features such as in-site search.

“We are excited about this opportunity to showcase Art n' Play on the Internet,” said Annaliese Bendezu, co-owner. “In addition to creating the Web site, Styles & Scribbles designed our logo, which expresses the fun, creative spirit of the company. Tiffany also provided us with collateral including posters, gift certificates, member cards, party invitations, and custom-branded Microsoft Word templates.”
