Additional Applications / Selling Tips

Some things in life aren't meant for sharing. Cosmetics are one of those things. Keep it to yourself: never share cosmetics with another person.

Cap tightly after use. Store at room temperature.

Folklore

At Garden Botanika, we believe makeup should do more than offer surface beauty and color to your face. Because it is on your skin for most of the day and into the evening, makeup should care for your skin too.

That's why we take such meticulous care in creating each Garden Botanika makeup product. The emollient Shea Butter you'll find in our lipsticks and blush and the Jojoba Oil you'll find in our eye shadows will smooth your skin while it works to assure an even application of color. In our mascara, we've used Shea Butter, Olive Oil, Meadowfoam and Panthenol to condition and keep lashes feeling luscious. We've used Japan Wax and Orange Peel Wax to produce lip and eye pencils that glide on beautifully, but are strong enough to last for hours.

And, to replace the talc found in so many other powders, we've developed a process that yields finely ground cornstarch so all Garden Botanika powders will be gentle and silky on your skin.

From what's in the container to the way it works for you, Garden Botanika's Enhance™ Cosmetics are truly a decidedly different way of looking at makeup.
